AVOID HARSH DRUGS

Many Cathartics Tend to Cause Injury to the Bowels

If you are subject to constipation, you should avoid strong drugs and cathartics. They only give temporary relief and their reaction is harmful and sometimes more annoying than constipation. They are no way effect a cure and their tendency is to weaken the already weak organs with which they come in contact.

I honestly believe that I have the best constipation treatment ever devised. My faith in it is so strong that I sell it on the positive guarantee that it shall not cost the user a cent if it does not give entire satisfaction and completely remedy constipation. This preparation is called Rexall Orderlies. They are prompt, soothing and most effective in action. They are made of a recent chemical discovery. Their principal ingredient is odorless, tasteless and colorless. Combined with other well-known ingredients, long established for their usefulness in the treatment of constipation, it forms a tablet which is eaten just like candy. They may be taken at any time, either day or night, without fear of their causing any inconvenience whatever.

They do not gripe, purge nor cause nausea.

They act without causing any pain or excessive looseness of the bowels. They are ideal for children, weak delicate person, and aged people, as well as for the most hearty person.

They come in three sizes packages, 12 tablets, 10 cents; 36 tablets, 25 cents; 80 tablets, 50 cents.

Remember, you can obtain them only at my store—The Rexall Store. Thos. J. Chenoweth, corner of Second and Sutton streets.

FLOODS SWEEP

Southern Kentucky Cities and State and Government Rushes Aid

The Mississippi river flood has battered down the levees at both Hickman and Columbus, Ky., causing property loss of over half million dollars.

More than 6,000 persons have been driven from their homes at Hickman and Columbus.

The Government and State are rushing tents for shelter. The food supply is getting short at all flood points in Kentucky, and a call was sent out for aid.

The river is already 2 feet above flood stage and is still rising.

The Mississippi river at Columbus is forty miles wide. Thousands of farmers have been driven from their homes to higher ground.

All trains to river towns between Cairo and Memphis have been abandoned.

AS RIDICULOUS

Senator Bradley Brands Recent Action of Judge O'Rear

At Washington, Senator Bradley of Kentucky, commented caustically upon the action of E. C. O'Rear, the Roosevelt campaign manager in Kentucky, in complaining to the Postoffice Department about certain Postmasters in Kentucky being active in the support of the President's renomination.

"Judge O'Rear had no objection last year to political activity on the part of Postmasters," said the Senator.

"You remember that he was a candidate for Governor at that time. His course is ridiculous."

CALL FOR REPUBLICAN CONVENTION

Pureuant to a call of the Republican State Central Committee there will be a Republican County Convention at the Court House in the City of Maysville, Ky., on April 6th, 1912, at 1:00 p.m. for the purpose of selecting delegates to the District Convention which meets at Maysville on April 9th, 1912, and the State Convention which meets at Louisville, Ky., April 10th, 1912.

All Republicans are requested to keep this date in mind and be present at the convention.

H. P. PURNELL, Chairman
Mason County Republican Committee.
Maysville, Ky., March 25th, 1912.

Judge O'Rear is this spring's best joke when it comes to politics.

The coal striker's are merely taking a long needed rest. However, its a very expensive rest to them.

It's not the doctrine of election so much as the subject of collection that keeps some men from Church.

Real progress is not measured by the abstractions of the philosophers, but by the happiness and welfare of a people. A satisfied, happy people are usually a good people; and a good people, in turn, are usually a prosperous people.

Strip a people of their material prosperity, we do not mean luxury, and you find unhappy, discontented people, you find progress stopped and the voice of reform stilled.

A Republican administration was in power in the nation for the ten years from 1899 until a Democratic house met in Washington in 1911 and began to disturb business conditions. Seven years of that period was under Theodore Roosevelt, the balance under William Howard Taft. In that decade the population of the country increased from 76,000,000 to 92,000,000; its wealth from $88,000,000,000 to over $130,000,000,000; the money in circulation from $2,000,000,000 to $3,100,000,000; bank clearings from $84,000,000,000 to $169,000,000,000; farm production from $3,700,000,000 to $8,900,000,000; postal receipts from one hundred and two million to two hundred and twenty-four million; annual immigration from four hundred forty-eight thousand five hundred and seventy-two to one million forty-one thousand five hundred seventy; exports of manufactures from four hundred forty-eight million dollars to seven hundred and sixty-six million dollars; gold production from seventy-nine million dollars to ninety-six million dollars, and so on through a much longer list.

In the ten years the public debt, less cash in the treasury, decreased from one billion one hundred and seven million dollars to one billion forty-six million dollars, and per capita from fourteen dollars fifty-two cents to eleven dollars and thirty-five cents. The annual interest on the public debt decreased from thirty-three million dollars to twenty-one million dollars.

And this happened in spite of the extra expenditures for the Panama canal and the growing expenses of the Government.

Academicians may sneer at material progress and seek the millennium in abstractions, but to have real progress we must have material progress.

The history of the United States during the last decade is a history of real progress.—

Commercial Tribune.

Dr. Magnus T. Hopper of New York City, who visited his brother, Mr. C. C. Hopper of Maysville, last week, gave him a sample of the "long ballot" recently voted in the New York State Primary. The sample is five feet long, but some of the ballots were fourteen feet long. That's taking a "long shot" as it were and is the limit on ballot box voting, as it takes a skyscraper in which to store the ballots after voting. All of which goes to show that we Americans are fast losing out in common sense and the simple road to the square deal. Dr. Hopper says Taft has everything his own way in the Empire State and will be renominated and reelected by an overwhelming vote.

An Eastern politician and business man of high standing said Sunday at Cincinnati, to The Commercial Tribune:

"This Roosevelt opposition has done more to strengthen President Taft than anything else. He is going to be nominated, Roosevelt, or no Roosevelt. I think the latter is a man who the country cannot trust and I believe the people of the United States think so. We have had too much of the strenuous life and the public is heartily sick of it."

"The Lord only knows who the Democrats will nominate. He is the best judge of what their actions will be, for no human mind can figure it out. They may nominate Wilson who would be their strongest candidate; they may nominate Champ Clark, they may nominate Harmon and then again they may nominate Mr. Bryan. There is no telling what they will do at their Baltimore convention."

Speaking of school examinations, the Springfield (Mass.) Republican says:

All examinations of course, are unjust. They reward extravagantly one set of qualities like memory, orderliness, presence of mind, tact, and even a preference for the e common place. They discriminate against equally valuable qualities like originality, eccentricity, inventiveness. They favor talent rather than genius; they mark for failure many whom Nature has marked for success.

And yet as a school process they are much depended upon, and succeed in wearing the patience out of devoted teachers. It is better in Germany, where a teacher's word is taken as to whether the boy is fit to go on to the next grade.

Foolish Philosophy.

Occasionally the guards appointed to watch the devil raise the devil.

Every big Republican politician talks as naturally about "me and Lincoln" as every Democratic politician talks about "me and Jefferson.

How proud the old Revolutionary patriots were of their country in 1776; but if they could see their country now they would burst with pride.

Possibly the most pitiful sight in the world is a fool who is mistaken and in dead earnest.

There wouldn't be so much excitement were it not possible to fool people twenty or thirty times in the same way.

I'm becoming very tired of leaders who can't lead and of freemen who are not free.

NEW LIGHT ON PATRICK HENRY.

The Docket.

After the capture of Richmond a party of English tourists were in that city, chaperoned by an old dame. "What is that building?" said one of the gentlemen to him.

"Dat's a 'bacco warehouse," said the old man. And then, looking in the direction of a high hill, Church Hill, as it is called in Richmond, the touring party spied a church at the top.

"And what is that building?" Is that a tobacco warehouse also?"

"Oh, no, sab. Dat's de church whar Patrick Henry made de speech 'Give me liberty or give me death,' and 'fore Gawd day done give him both.'

WHO'S WHO—and Why

PEDDLER WHO LEADS AN ARMY

Should the rebellion inaugurated by Emiliano Zapata result in the overthrow of the Madero government, there would be added to Mexico's history a chapter that is unique in this country.

Previous revolutions have received their impetus from men of high intelligence and usually of culture. Zapata's most advanced point in the social plane was that of an itinerant merchant, a peddler. Officially his name has been written on the records of his country, prior to the Madero revolution, as that of a private in the Mexican army. There is one more entry, that recording his desertion from the army.

Those unacquainted with Zapata frequently make the mistake of styling him an illiterate. That is not true. He can read and write, and has the rudiments of a common school education. Added to that, he possesses a shrewdness which, combined with a stubbornness, a personal magnetism and a bravery which no one denies, makes him a person truly formidable.

Steadily his forces grew as they had during the days of Madero's revolt, until on February 1 of this year he found himself at the head of forces to such numbers as to cause the federal government to send against him a large part of the government troops.

PREDICTS ONLY THREE NATIONS

Hudson Maxim, the inventor, declares that in a very short time there will be only three countries in the world.

"Some time ago, in talking with Lord Wolseley, he told me that in the future there would be only two countries in the world, and those would be China and the United States," says Mr. Maxim in an interview published recently.

"Now I want to say something stronger than that. In a very short time there will be only three countries in the world, and those will be the United States of Asia (including Europe), the United States of Africa and the United States of America.

"Look at the world's progress in the last 150 years. See what Japan has done in fifty years. Then imagine what is the future of the new Chinese republic, with its 400,000,000 people."

In the opinion of former Senator Charles A. Towne of Minnesota, the immediate future promises some big wars.

"Even our own country can't boast much of its peace proclivities," he said, "considering the way it has treated the United States of Colombia in the Panama matter. Germany and England are in exceedingly sensitive relations just now, and so are Japan and the United States. China, too, may soon fall into a state of absolute anarchy, and there are bound to be clashes if it comes to dividing China up among the powers."
